

Recovering at Home after a Hip Replacement

Barbara Kulevich of Marblehead leads an active life. Dividing her time between her job, her community volunteer work and spending time with her family, there was little that held her back from the things she enjoyed. That was until increased pain in her hip began affecting her quality of life. After a successful hip replacement surgery, Barbara was not interested in going to a rehabilitation facility, she wanted to recover at home and she requested to go home with All Care. After three days in the hospital, Barbara was discharged home and admitted to All Care to begin her rehabilitation.

All Care's Interdisciplinary Services

All Care's team of experienced Physical and Occupational Therapists (PT and OT) and Registered Nurses (RN) developed an individualized care plan for Barbara to recover at home.

Nursing

- RN visits provided 1-2 times a week
- RN monitored vital signs, pain level, medication use, and healing of incision to ensure there were no post-operative complications

Physical and Occupational Therapy

- PT and OT visits 3 times a week
- PT created an individualized home exercise program and guided Barbara through a variety of exercises designed to increase her range of motion and improve her strength and balance
- OT provided useful tools to help Barbara with her activities of daily living

Outcome: Initially using a walker to ambulate after her surgery, Barbara quickly graduated to a cane, and in less than six weeks required no assistance at all. Barbara's remarkable progress with All Care allowed her to regain full mobility and return to work in less than 12 weeks after her total hip replacement surgery.

Her doctor was so pleased after Barbara's first follow up visit that he said, "You're doing great, see you in a year!" While facing any joint replacement surgery may seem daunting, All Care is able to guide you through your rehabilitation at home. If you or a family member will be undergoing a joint replacement procedure and want to recover at home remember to request All Care for your rehabilitation services.
